Field Course Project Reports

Tanzania

2 September – 30 September 2003

TBA 03/3

The Tropical Biology Association is working to meet the challenge of biodiversity conservation by establishing an informed, well motivated community of tropical biologists based both in Europe and in tropical countries. Through its training courses and its growing network of individuals and institutions, the TBA is establishing a collaborative framework which will provide a firm foundation for conservation and research activities in the tropics.

The 2003 TBA course in Tanzania was hosted by the Amani Nature Reserve. It was supported by European Community grant B7-6200/01/0370/ENV and by the BAT Biodiversity Partnership and was organised in collaboration with the Tanzania Forest Research Institute (TAFORI), and the East Usambara Conservation Area Management Programme (EUCAMP).

The TBA thanks the British Ecological Society for their generous financial support to TBA students. The TBA received invaluable assistance with its vehicles from Paul Gwanyu at the British High Commission in Uganda. The TBA also thanks the Director General of the National Museums of Kenya and Nature Kenya.

Our sincere thanks go to Mr Sawe (Chief Conservator of ANR), Bruno Malia, Albert Mtemi and Mr Mndolwa for all their important contributions to the success of the 2003 course. The TBA thanks Mr A Mtwale at the Department of Immigration in Dar es Salaam and Mr Ntando of Tanzania Customs in Namanga for their assistance. The TBA thanks WCSTI and the Msimbazi Centre in Dar es Salaam for their hospitality. We are very grateful to all the staff at the Amani Nature Reserve for all their hard work and excellent hospitality. The TBA would also like to thank the village community of Handei forest reserve.

Finally, the TBA thanks the course teachers for all their hard work, for providing high calibre teaching, lots of enthusiasm and for supporting the TBA's activities. The courses would not have been such a success without them.
